We wrote the manual. An AI lived the career.

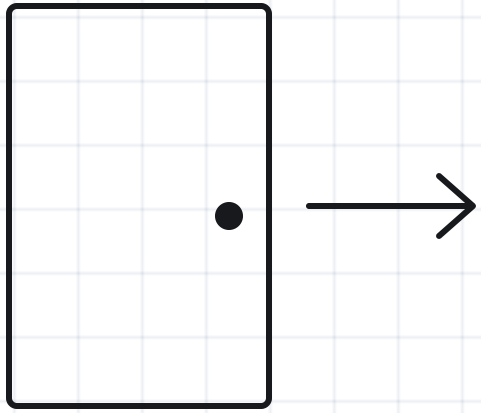

the whole story, start to finish

An AI lives 48 months in a company

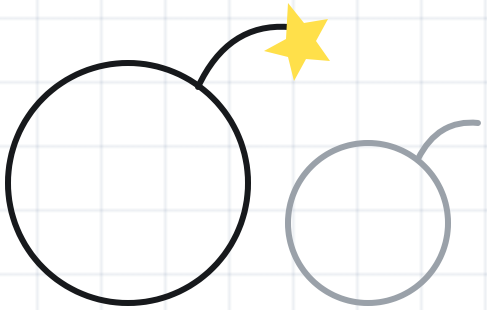

Three ways to lose

Fired

never promoted

Hidden trouble

explodes twice

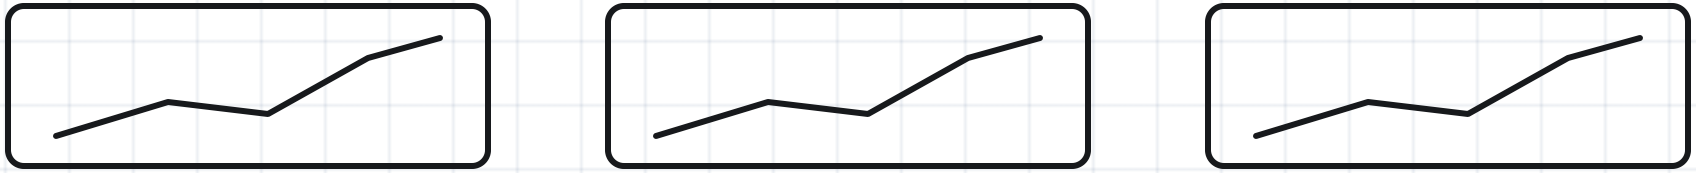

Burnout

nothing left

The only clue to hidden trouble: the tone of HR's monthly comment.

We don't play. We write the manual.

the organisers run it career 1 career 2 career 3

and score it

First, we studied the game from outside the real game ≈ our practice copy

99/100

same move as the real game for testing ideas only · nothing from it goes into the manual

It sees danger. It misses chances.

risky answers spotted

83%

answers that help it grow

~ half

So the manual teaches it how to read an answer, in plain words.

Three questions, every single time

1

What will this change?

2

What do I need now?

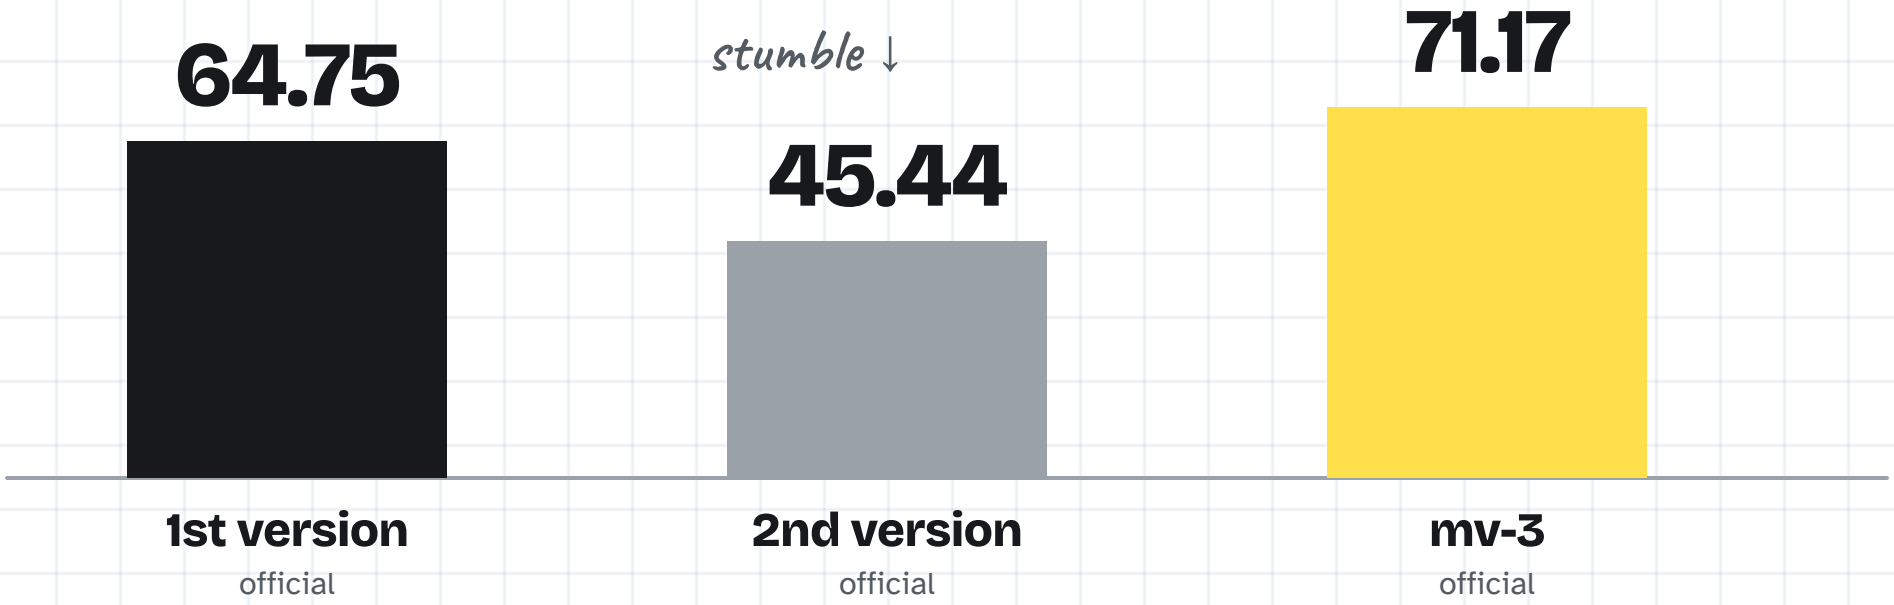

3

Which rule fits now?

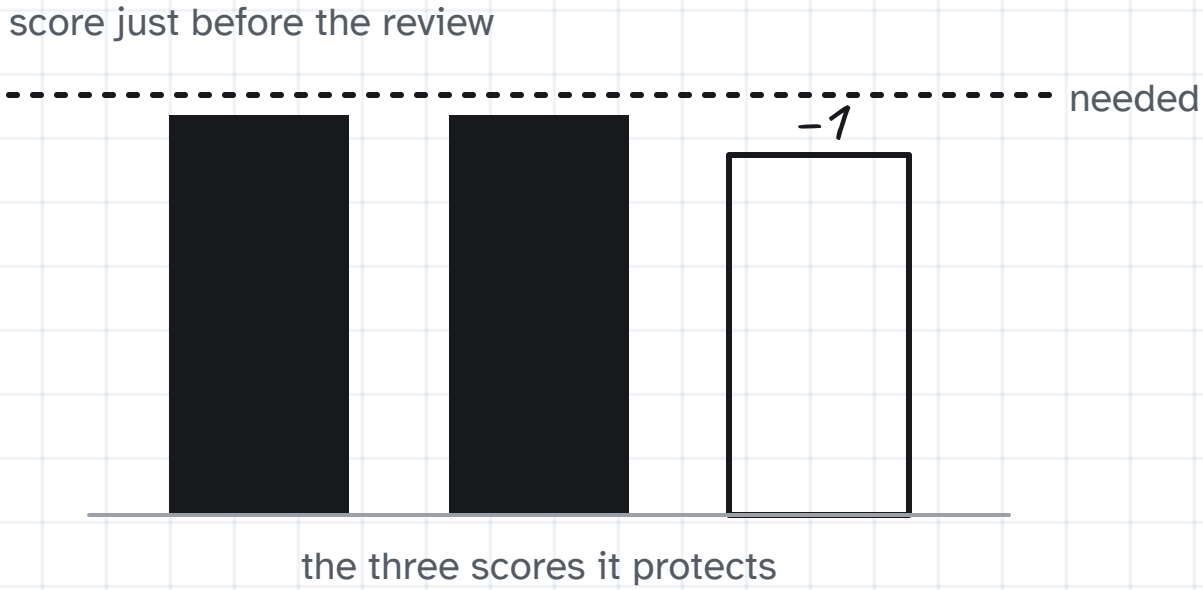

```
Review in N | Now S.. N.. O.. | Best S.. N.. O.. | Reviews here: 0
```

months to the review — scores now — best so far — reviews at this level

Three tries, one stumble

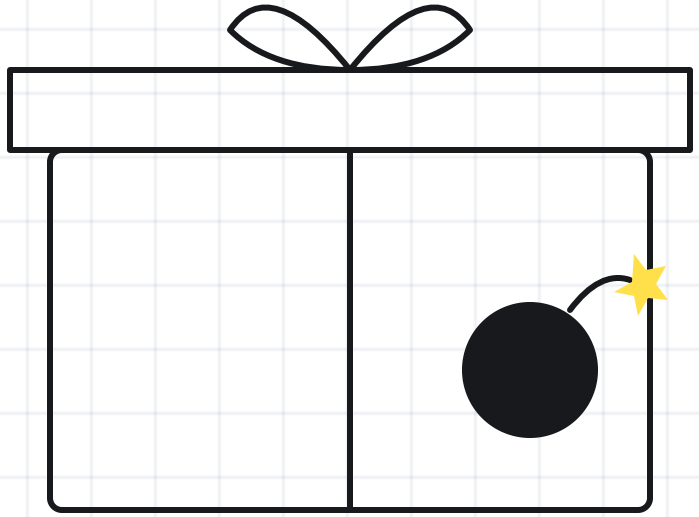

Promotions lost by a single point

Guard your scores before each review

"Nice" answers hid trouble

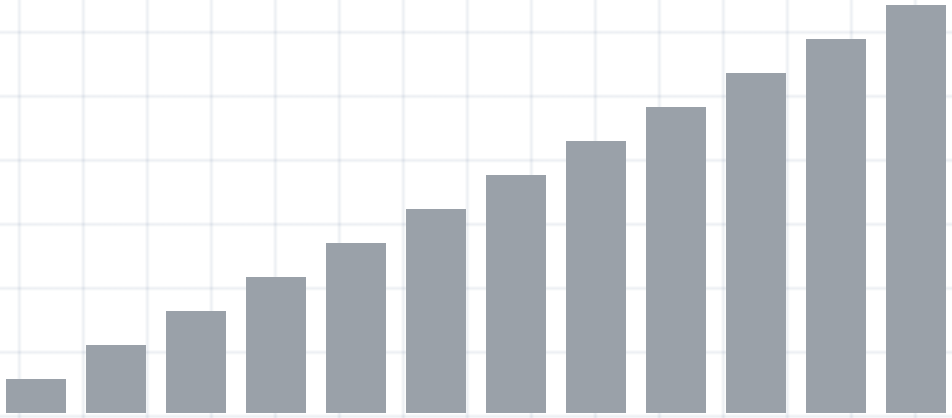

"a quiet private chat"

"fix it bit by bit"

Avoid anything that buries a problem

It was re-reading everything, every step before: several replies per decision each step re-reads everything so far

1.4 M → 0.6 M word pieces read per month, on average

after: one reply per decision

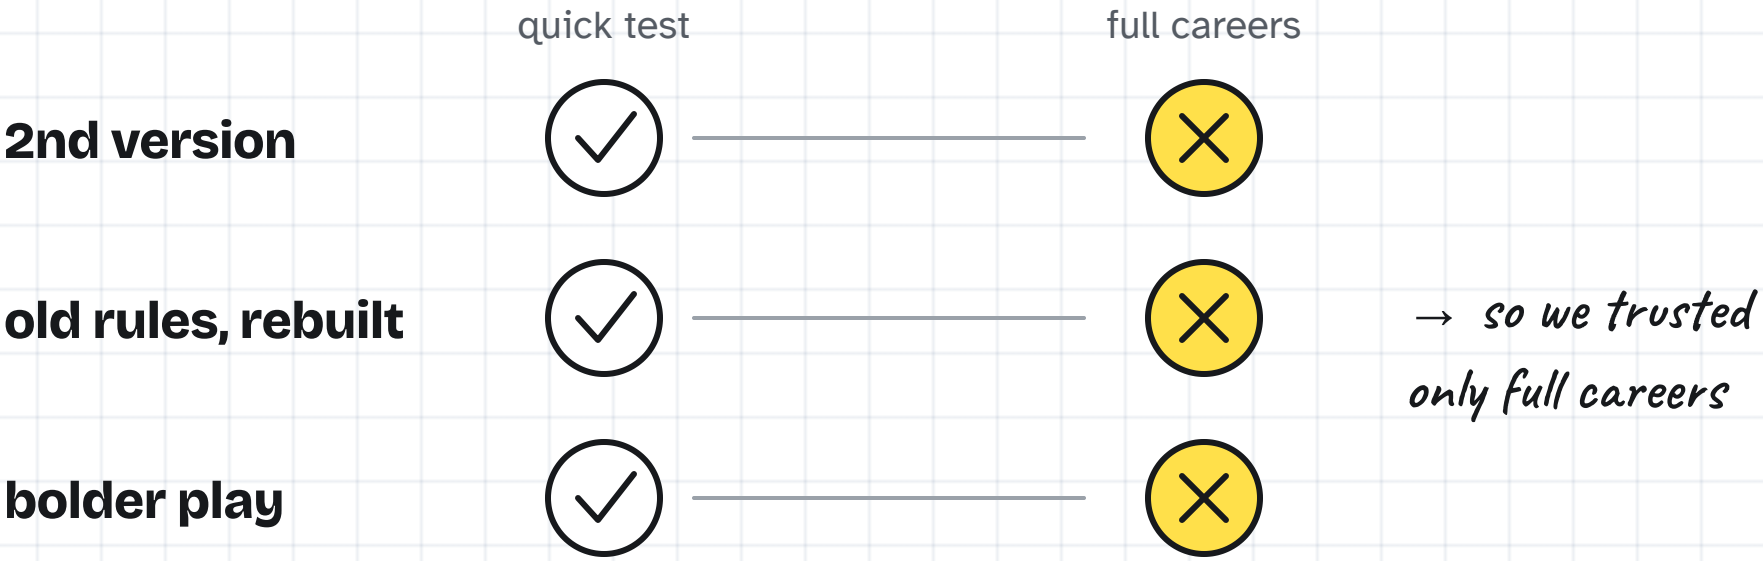

One extra sentence made it worse

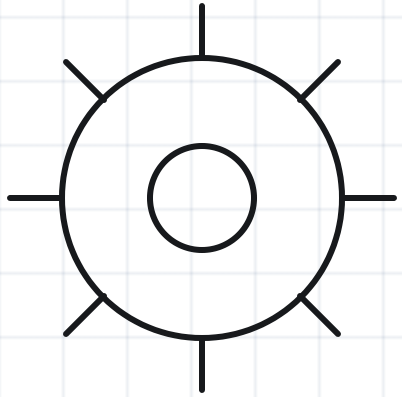

The sentence was meant to fix a glitch. our guess: it stopped the AI thinking out loud

Quick tests fooled us. Full careers didn't.

→ so we trusted only full careers

One manual. No extra programs.

a helper program we tried

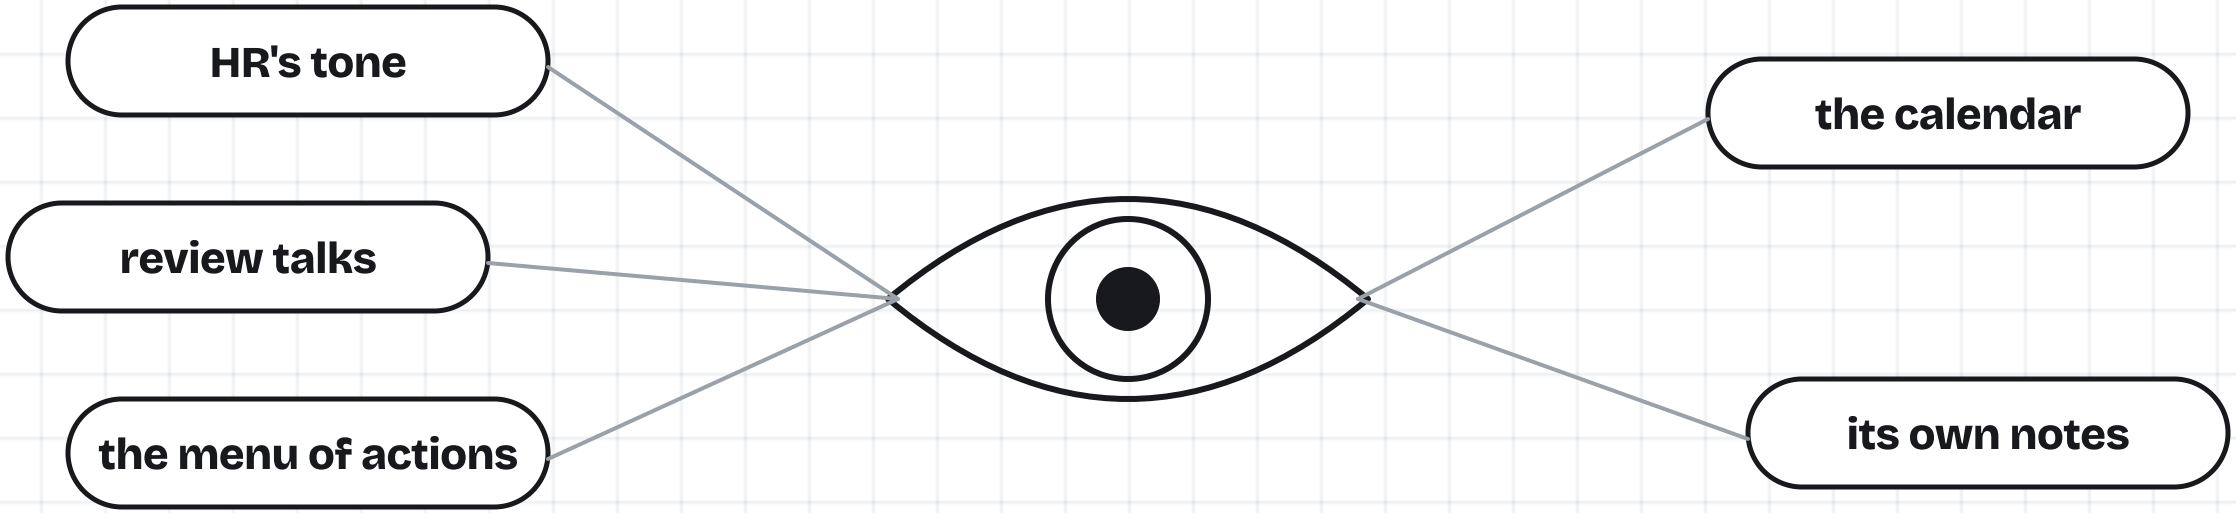

1 great career

3/7 ended early

1.6× more reading

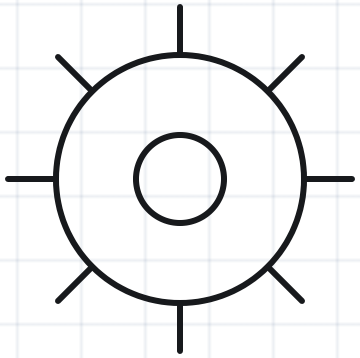

the real problem is reading the situations. a helper can't fix that.

It only uses what it can see no secret answers · weak spot: ~1 career in 4 still falls, mostly at the start

A manual changes how it works, not what it understands

✔ habits, order, reading

what it does, step by step

✖ understanding

which answer costs what priorities and discipline, yes · understanding, no

The whole journey in one picture

Where we ended

mv-3: the manual of our best careers

70.1

average of its finished practice careers (7 of 9)

<½

the reading of our first version

0

secret answers inside

Thanks for watching!

Final: 71.17 official · 28th of 88 teams with a score (227 registered)

other career scores are from our practice runs